

MEDIA CLIPPING

Publication: Caulfield/Glen Eira Leader

Section: News

Date: 29 September 2009

Page: 9

Circulation: 37,968

Zoe, from Mount Scopus, sends a message about climate change.

Future sewn up by kids

Campaign | Jenny Ling

STUDENTS from Mt Scopus Memorial College have picked up needles and thread to help save the planet.

They are involved in the Climate Quilt Campaign, a global awareness campaign.

Prep to grade 3 students from the school's St Kilda East and Caulfield South campuses have been busy decorating 16.5cm squares of recycled fabric with beads, embroidery or pens which form individual pledges. The Australian patches will be joined with segments made worldwide and displayed at environmental events and Earth Day celebrations.